MORE MONEY MISSING.

Thirty Thousand Dollars Additional Gone.

BOOKS ARE SAID ALTERED

Total Shortage of Sixty Thousand Dollars Has Been Unearthed in Treasury at San Francisco and a Party Put Under Arrest.

San Francisco, Oct. 24.—In an endeavor to fix the responsibility for the shortage of $37,500 in the city treasury, the committee of investigation made an unexpected discovery that funds to the extent of $30,000 more are missing. Criminal prosecution is foreshadowed in the detention by the authorities of James C. Tomally, for several years bookkeeper in the office.

For nearly two years it had been known there was a shortage in the treasury of $37,500. An effort was made to connect the missing money with Edward Smith, former tax collector, who is serving time in the penitentiary for forgery.

Expert accountants were employed by the state and in their report they uncovered a total shortage of $60,000 and declared the money was taken during the term of former City Treasurer Bantel. An expert in handwriting declared the books had been altered and Tomally was summoned. He declared his innocence. He is now in custody.

Accused of Starting Panic.

Fort Worth, Oct. 24.—H. L. Warren of Austin was arrested and fined $13.
He was charged with causing a panic among the passengers of a local street car. Warren was accused of boarding many cars, declaring he was the new superintendent, taking charge, whizzing cars past corners at breakneck speed and warning crews he would discharge them if interfered with.

WORSHAM'S REPORT.

Superintendent of Asylum Gives Interesting Figures.

Austin, Oct. 24.—Superintendent Worsham of the state insane asylum has submitted his biennial report to the governor, showing 1,158 patients now at the institution. For the year ending Aug. 31, 1907, 215 new patients were admitted and during the year ending Aug. 31, 1908, 399. The report shows that during 1907 there were 200 cases of beri beri and twenty deaths, making the death rate 10 per cent. Dr.
Worsham says this disease is caused by restricted diet, composed largely of rice. As to the work of the Pasteur institute, 653 patients were treated during the two years of which 510 were from dog bites. Dr. Worsham recommends an appropriation of $65,- 000 for a new building to accommodate white patients.

Bequests of Mrs. Faulkner.

Austin, Oct. 24.—The will of the late Mrs. Nellie Faulkner bequeathes $5,000 to Mrs. A. W. Houston of San Antonio; divides her 1,400-acre farm in Ellis county between two members of the Tobin family of Austin, Mrs.
Octavia Walton of Atascosa county and New Winstead of Houston; divides her 1,000-acre farm in Bosque county between Mrs. George Hines of San Antonio and Mrs. Benedetta
Skeene of St. Louis; gives Mrs. Hines
$10,000; bequeathes her Austin residence to Mrs. Emily Hunt of New York, also giving her $10,000. A codicil reduces C. D. Parker of Ellis county to $10,000.

Special Pension Agent at Austin.

Austin, Oct. 24.—C. G. Townsend special agent of the pension bureau at Washington, is here to make a thorough investigation of the records in the adjutant general's department to ascertain how many rangers and other veterans are entitled to pensions under the pension act of May 30, 1908.
The adjutant general's department has recently discovered old muster rolls and pay rolls which will entitle several of these veterans to pensions.

VANIGEN'S MURDER.

Bride-Widow Relates the Terrible Train Tragedy.

Plaquemine, La., Oct. 24.—Fabian F.
Bouvy, who shot and killed Professor Frederick Vanigen while the latter was seated by his bride of a few hours on a Texas and Pacific train bound for New Orleans, was jailed here and guarded to prevent possible violence.
Bouvy maintains a sullen silence.
Mrs. Vanigen, in telling the story of the tragedy, said: "Bouvy persisted in calling to see me, but I repeatedly told him I would never marry him. He told me: 'If you ever marry another man I will kill him.' I never seriously thought he would do such a thing. When I alighted from the train in Alexandria I found Bouvy following me. I never saw him again until we were boarding the train for New Orleans. When we got on the train he paced up and down the aisle like an insane man, and finally seated himself opposite me, telling me he was awaiting a favorable opportunity to kill my husband. I told Fred, but he only laughed and said there was no danger. A little later when my husband reached over, half standing, to get something out of his satchel, Bouvy quickly pulled a revolver from a breast pocket and fired. I think he would have killed me, too, if my uncle had not got hold of his pistol."

Check "Kiter" Convicted.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—C. E. Stratham of Jackson, Miss., who, the police assert, has made a practice of fleecing hotels in various cities, was arraigned before Judge Gemmill, charged with passing a fraudulent draft at the Auditorium Annex. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50. The draft was for $200 on the Fourth National bank of Atlanta, Ga., against the C. H. Stratham estate.

The arrest of Stratham, who is twenty-four years old, removes one of the most dangerous check "kiters" from the hotel field, according to Chief Detective Frank Repetto, of the Congress hotel. He said:

"We have found that he has secured
large sums from the Coates House,
Kansas City; the Washington hotel, Kansas City; Piedmont, Atlanta; the North Northern and Auditorium Annex, Chicago, and the Knickerbocker
New York."

Lumber Plant Destroyed.

Ellisville, Miss., Oct. 24.—Fire destroyed the plant of the Ellisville Lumber company. Loss is $100,000.
Several cars of lumber were also destroyed.

entered the residence of Mr. Armstrong, securing a fine gold watch and diamond brooch.

Ice Plant Consumed.

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 24.—A $150,000
fire destroyed the plant of the Tropical Ice company here. The fire originated in the fuel room.

rich and Miss Nannie W. Webber were

THE CHORAL CLUB

Will Give a Recital During First Week in December.

A fine rehearsal was had by the ladies Choral Club Saturday afternoon. The attendance was good, and nice progress in the work outlined for the season is noted. At this meeting the club decided to put on a recital for the first week in December.

The program for this event will be contributed to by local talent only. However, The Eagle feels safe in saying that the local talent of Bryan can and will place an offering before the public far in advance of many of the high priced musical and lecture combinations now touring the country, and this is not a reflection on the combinations en tour. Later on, it is the intention to have some noted artist appear here with the club. This, however, will be given further consideration in the future.

A CALL TO DEMOCRATS.

Chairman White Urges All to Turn Out on Election Day.

As chairman of the Brazos County Democratic Good Government Club, I hereby call on every loyal Democrat in Brazos county to go to the poles on election day and cast your votes. Not only vote, but stand by the eternal principles of Democracy and cast your vote for every Democratic nominee from Wm. J. Bryan and Governor Thos. M. Campbell, down to Constable of the precinct in which you live. This is loyalty and duty, and our Club stands for both loyalty and duty in all things.

By the failure of Democrats to vote in the general election, Brazos county's representation is cut down in the state convention and by the failure of democrats to vote in all the southern states, the representation of the South in the National Congress is threatened to be cut down by the Republicans.

Let us acquit ourselves like men, and push Brazos county to the front as one of the banner democratic counties of the state, and do our full part in rolling up one of the biggest democratic majorities this election that grand old Texas has ever shown.

Rev. Dr. Duffy, who will assume the duties of rector of St. Andrew's (Episcopal) church here, is expected to arrive during the early part of this week. Dr. Duffy comes from Battleford, Saskatchewan, Canada, and about four days will be occupied with the trip. A letter received by officers of the church here Saturday morning was to the effect that the doctor had bidden farewell to friends in Battleford last Tuesday, and he and his wife are expected now within a very short time.

Evangelist Worthen of Denison gave two lectures here Saturday in favor of Statewide prohibition. He is an interesting and entertaining talker, and he has facts and figures with him. He made two good talks, and some of his statements in regard to restricting or forbidding foreign immigration, the kind that does not care to learn our language, read our papers or become Americanized—the kind that earns money in America and sends it away—was heartily approved by many in the large crowd assembled around the speaker.

The Eagle man made a mistake in his item a day or two ago in regard to the number of cases of scarlet fever in the city, and mentioned in connection with the appointment of a board of health by the city council. The Eagle stated that there had been three cases in the city, one of which was convalescent, leaving the impression that there were then two cases under treatment. This was an error. There have been all told, three cases of this malady in the city. One of these is entirely well, and the other two were at the time of the publication of the item convalescent, so that it may be said there is not a case of scarlet fever in the city at this time.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK.

New York, Oct. 24.—(Special to Bryan Morning Eagle).—New York may have its drawbacks, but it is at least free from so barbarous a law as that under which a man was fined $20 in Connecticut the other day, because he had kissed his wife in a public conveyance on Sunday. What a calamity such a law would be for the Coney Island crowds in the gay summer season! Any one who has had the opportunity, it might almost be called the misfortune, to ride from Coney Island to the city on one of the late B. R. T. trains, will appreciate what it would mean should such a law be carried into effect in New York. It is true, the men who do the kissing on the Coney Island trains do not, as a rule, kiss their wives. Sometimes they kiss some other man's wife, mostly how ever unattached females. If they had to pay $20 for every offence, half the younger population of New York would be bankrupted before the summer is half over.

Maybe All Are Not Married Men.

An exceedingly dangerous precedent was established when one of the New York courts the other day approved the proposition to place a certain actress on the witness stand and make her explain why and under which circumstances she had received a present of a $5,000 automobile from a certain young man of finance whose affairs are now being sifted in the insolvency court. It would be more than indelicate, it would be brutal to make actresses, singers and chorus girls divulge "coram publico" what the nature of the consideration was in return for which they received automobiles, bracelets and other costly presents. Such practice would be not only indelicate on general principles, embarrassing for the fair witnesses and equally so for their generous "friends," but would cause a tremendous increase in the number of divorce suits that would swamp the courts of New York for years to come.

Dr. Lesser's Invention.

Dr. Lesser, of the New York Red Cross Hospital, has won fame and the eternal gratitude of the medical students by his new invention, which will enable them to witness operations without attending clinic or going even near the operating room. They may now continue their baseball or football practice on the campus, without missing the opportunity of seeing some poor patient cut to slices on the operating table. These clinics used to be a source of great annoyance to the students, who were frequently compelled to interrupt their most important work on the campus to attend some uninteresting operation. It is to be hoped that some clever professor will invent in the near future, some kind of book which, if placed under the pillow, will impart its contents to the somnolent brains of the student, while he is resting from his exertions on the athletic field.

Don't Like Our Houses.

Once more a foreign architect has expressed his disapproval of New York's architecture. N. Augustin Rey, a French architect with a national reputation, after a visit to New York said that the city's architecture was ridiculous, absolutely unreasonable and most stupid. He declared that within twenty years the people would demand that they should be cut in half. Such outrageous slanders by a French citizen should be considered a "casus belli." Hasn't New York the highest buildings in the world? Well how can they be called ridiculous? Has not New York its Municipal Art Commission, which is the highest authority on architecture, past, present and future? And yet these foreign architects come over here and declare New York's architecture preposterous. These foreigners make one tired. It is easy enough for them to condemn skyscrapers. Real estate in their country, even in large cities like Paris, London, Berlin or Vienna does not cost a million dollars a square inch.

A Successful Peacemaker.

For a man of peace and a delegate to various universal peace congresses Hudson Maxim, the American inventor, has contributed a remarkable assortment of killing devices and war machines. He is evidently an advocate of the theory that peace is best and most safely established by means of sword and bullet. His rapid fire gun has already helped thousands into a world of peace and now he has announced that he is about to help the peace movement along with another invention of him a submarine, capable of blowing up any warship ever built in the future. Another step nearer to Peace.

Your merchant handles fresh home ground meal, ask for it.

FADS AND FASHIONS.

New York, Oct. 24.—Women who love beautiful things—and what woman does not love them!—find it more tantalizing to visit the large and fashionable shops this season than ever before. The reason is that never has there been such a bewildering wealth and variety of beautiful materials, trimmings and accessories and of finished models exhibited as just now. Those who are in a position to know, say that owing to the stringency of the money market last year comparatively little was spent for gowns and other things dear to every woman. The manufacturers, dealers and dress-makers alike felt the effect of the panic and, to make business brisker this year they combined their ingenuity and efforts and planned effects, both of color and material, they felt sure would prove irresistible. A glance at the display in any fashionable establishment will suffice to show how well they have succeeded.

Not so very long ago simple colors were the style and only the most subtle and harmonious combinations of shades of the same color were permissible in the same costume. Today all that is changed. The variety of colors and shades, of texture and finish of materials has become multiplied a thousandfold compared with former years and there is scarcely any limit to the number of colors that may be combined in the same costume. The most daring combinations, producing an effect of barbaric splendor, are found by the side of the most chaste and subdued combinations. Particularly in colors the variety to be found in the shops is so great that there is no longer an excuse for any woman who does not find exactly the right color best suited to her complexion.

Notwithstanding the fact that colors, even those of the loud and glaring kind are extremely fashionable this season, there is a great demand for blacks and grays. It may be said that gray is one of the dominant colors of the season. Apropos of gray a word of warning may not be amiss. Gray is undoubtedly a beautiful and pleasing color, but it is not for every woman. Only too often women of middle age, who are colorless, anaemic and have the "washed-out" complexion of invalids, make the mistake of wearing gray. They should never do so. It merely accentuates their lack of color and gives them the appearance of moving corpses an effect decidedly undesirable. Gray, even the most lifeless and dead, is suitable for young girls who have a great deal of color in skin and hair, or even for middle aged women of the florid and healthy looking type, but never for the pale and faded women with dark lines under her eyes and wrinkles in her bloodless cheeks.

For practical street suits of the modified Directoire type, such as are developed in beautifully finished stilletos, serges and worsteds; checks and stripes are far more popular than are plain effects. Many of these fabrics are in two tones of one color, although in some having wide checks and distinctly separated hairlines are seen rather startling contrasts. These are especially notable in the combinations of black brown and blue, with white.

One of the most attractive features of the present Directoire style is the waistcoat, which usually is made separately from the jacket, and may be worn or not, as desired. For these vests are used the beautiful broadest silks and satins, which show figures and flowers in brilliant tints upon groundings precisely the shade of the cloth costume with which they are employed. Or again, they are of satin to match the Directoire scarf, which is often arranged to cover the lower edge of the waistcoat, when it is attached to the outer wrap, as is frequently the case, the girdle passing under the coat at the back, over the waistcoat in front, and then knotted at the left side below the hips.

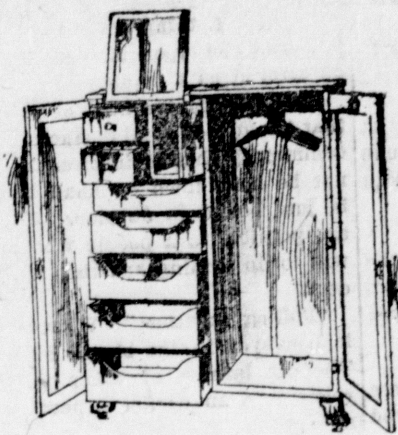

A collar that will almost take the place of a fur piece for the neck and one that will assuredly prove a comfort for the first cool days of autumn, is the Directoire, a smart confection which almost any one can fashion. It is simply a wide band of satin trimmed with closely set narrow bands of any long-haired fur, preferably black marten, and on either edge is set a two-inch-wide box-plaited satin ribbon ruche, which may be edged with fur or not, according to taste. The ends are finished with large rosettes of satin ribbon, from which hang long ends. If it is desired to make the Directoire collar a degree more elaborate, a white lace jabot may be substituted for the ribbon. This will serve to fill in any space left exposed by the jacket fronts. Some exceedingly pretty collars of this description may be seen among the latest importations from Paris now on exhibition in the fashionable shops.

OBJECTS TO RULING.

Railway Baggage Agents Will Take Action Nov. 10.

(San Antonio, Texas, October 24.—(Special to Bryan Morning Eagle).—Texas railroads are preparing to resist the new baggage rules recently promulgated by the State Railroad Commission. The Commission's ruling was to the effect that certain classes of druggists' samples, such as opera chairs, cash registers, etc., must be listed as baggage. To this the railroad men object, claiming that liability claim payments can be made excessive. The ruling was made on petition of the Texas Travelers' Protective Association.

The man who gives the matter of the selections of his clothes careful consideration will do well to pay us a visit and see the wonderful array of handsome garments we are showing.

COTTON STATEMENT.

For the market week closing Friday night, October 23, wagon receipts of cotton at this point were 1,248 bales against 1,437 for the week preceding, a decrease of 189. For the season receipts of square bales total 13,034 against 8,486 same date last year.

Round bales ginned, 1,171 against 840 same date last year. Counting round bales as half bales Bryan has received this season 13,619 bales against 8,906 same date last year. Perhaps 600 bales of cotton are in stock at the various warehouses here. Of this amount 375 bales are held for 90 basis.

At the warehouses: 1908 1907
Lawrence warehouse... 7,075 5,080
Brick warehouse... 3,192 3,406
Union... 2,767

Total square bales... 13,034 8,486
Increase in receipts of square bales 4,548.
Round bales ginned this season... 1,171
Same date last year... 840

Increase over last year... 231
Light wagon receipts Friday were due to the heavy rain of Thursday afternoon and night. The roads of the county while soft in places, are in very fair condition. Bee Creek bridge, however, (on the Edge road) is reported to be dangerous to teams on account of holes in the floor, and other work is needed at this point. If there is a superintendent for this bit of road the informant of the Eagle failed to find him, and hence the notification through the paper.

The county judge and county commissioners of Brazos county are more wide awake to the necessity of good roads than any other county officials of which we know, and doubtless the Bee Creek bridge will receive prompt attention at their hands.

Ash Pond, on my place in the Brazos bottom, has been leased for hunting purposes for five years. I am under agreement to protect same, and any one trespassing on the property will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

WALKED FIFTY MILES.

Army Surgeon at San Antonio Complied with the New Test.

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 24.—(Special to Bryan Morning Eagle).—"Walked fifty miles in three days, carrying harness and other equipments of actual service or be put on the retired list!" This in substance was the command given the higher authorities to Col. J. B. Girard, the veteran surgeon of the local army post. The time-tried officer, notwithstanding the handicap of his 62 years, was not long in choosing the alternative. Younger officers chose the ninety-mile test ride in lieu of the long walk but not so with Col. Girard. Shouldering musket and camping paraphernalia, he tugged out alone from the post one morning last week and when next heard from was on the high road to New Braunfels. The two nights of his test walk the colonel spent rolled up in his tent blanket by the road side. The trip was made according to specifications, and the doughty but aged surgeon arrived at the post on the third day with several hours to spare. As a result he remains on the active list. Col. Girard is one of the most widely known surgeons of the army. Several years ago he wrote a treatise on surgery which is in use by the leaders of the profession throughout the country.

BRYAN, TEXAS, OCT. 25, 1908

Talk about a Simpson Democrat. Huh! Might as well talk about a Devil Christian.

It's a pity the newspapers can't let Miss Elkins marry that Italian duke without making so much fuss about it.

It looks like a safe bet that the football casualties this season will exceed those of the Balkans.—New York Press.

As a situation, the Balkans are merely a touch of humor compared with the Night Riders.—Springfield Republican.

When Senator Tillman heard that the Balkan peasants were drilling with pitchforks he thought it was time for him to come home.

Says the Navasota Examiner: "If we could throw a few thousand of Texas' excess of Democratic votes into the enemies' camp in New York on election day, the overthrow of Rooseveltism would be assured." Do you favor a national blanket ballot?

In 1880 the Southern cotton spindleage was 561,000. In 1890, 3,500,000. In 1907, 9,920,000. An increase in 27 years from 1880 to 1907 of 1,670 per cent, or an average yearly increase of 61.8 per cent. At this rate of increase the South will soon manufacture the majority of King Cotton.—Texas Cotton Journal.

That man who tries to array farmer against banker or farmer against merchant, is a natural and dangerous enemy to the community in which he lives. He, of course, does not think so. Neither does the anarchist think he is an anarchist. He thinks he is agitating for the liberty of the people. The former and the latter are of the same stripe. The farmer is essential to the prosperity of the country. So are the banker and the merchant. All are interdependent upon the other in their business relations, and their interests are and should be mutual. The reader can accept it as a fact that the man who is constantly trying to array class against class, farmer against merchant, is a great enemy to his commonwealth. He is generally an ignoramus and a fool, and a menace to the people among whom he lives.—Palestine Herald.

Painfully Hurt.

Cadet Greseberger of A. & M. while working in the blacksmith shop at the college, had his right eye very painfully hurt Saturday morning by getting a red-hot spark into it. Fears were entertained for a while that the sight had been destroyed, and he was placed in a buggy and hurriedly brought to Bryan for treatment by Dr. A. L. Mondrick, an eye specialist. To the Eagle man Dr. Mondrick stated that while the hurt was very painful indeed, he hoped, under the treatment prescribed that no permanent injury would result from the burn. The spark did not remain in the eye, but the burn was very severe, and both eyes are in a painful condition.

Texas Cotton Journal.

The Eagle has received the initial number of the Texas Cotton Journal published at Houston, E. A. Colvier, editor. In his salutatory the editor says:

"It shall be our earnest desire to put out a clean, newsy paper along the lines that its name suggests. It is not so much our intention to discuss the production or cultivation of farm crops as to try to keep our readers informed on market conditions, as well as on the best markets, and on the methods of marketing. The subjects of cultivation and production have been exploited through the papers until they seem to have been almost exhausted.

NO JAILS NEEDED.

New Braunfels and Fredericksburg Are Without Prisoners.

New Braunfels, Texas, Oct. 21.—There are two towns in this section of the state which have no need of jails at this time. One of these is Fredericksburg in Gillespie county and the other is New Braunfels in Comal county. At both places the county jails are empty. This is due to the fact that there is no lawlessness going on at these places. A noteworthy incident regarding these towns is that both are wide open.

Pulling Together.

In referring to the almost phenomenal development of the town of Rosenberg and the country immediately surrounding it. Mr. McCabe, a citizen of that place, is quoted in Friday's issue of the Post with the statement: "There is a reason, of course, and I attribute it to the fact that we of Rosenberg are pulling together. When we desire a thing we go get it. We don't depend upon any one man, but go after it as a community."

Now here is the kind of philosophy that triumphs over all obstacles and the community that is inspired by it can not be held down to small things—it is just bound to develop. All things are possible to a people who unitedly will to do a thing and then set out to do it.

"Pulling together." What a lesson is conveyed in the simple statement! The old farmer, of whom the school readers of an earlier generation give an account, forcibly and impressively illustrated this lesson to his stalwart sons when calling them around him, he passed to each in turn a bundle of sticks bound securely together and requested them to break the bundle. Not one of the sons with all the strength at his command could break it. Thereupon the father separated the sticks and taking them one by one broke each in turn. Having thus conveyed to their minds by a simple object lesson the wisdom of combining their strength, he proceeded to impress it upon them by a few sagely words, admonishing them of the great things they might accomplish by "pulling together."

But Rosenberg is not the only town whose people are pulling together, we are glad to say. Lift your eyes and look abroad over the great State of Texas and you may pick them out without difficulty by their splendid public buildings, their growing population, their expanding limits and innumerable other evidences of progress and prosperity. They are the towns whose people desire a thing and go get it. They don't wait upon any one man but go after it as a community.—Houston Post.

Never before have you had the selection of Haviland China in Bryan to choose from as I now have on sale in sets and open stock. Our prices are less than is charged in the larger cities for the same quality of goods. Tyler Haswell. d277w1

THE COTTON MARKET.

Liverpool went us 1 1-2 better Saturday morning and opened 5 1-2 points down instead of 4, as predicted.

The American markets opened unchanged and ruled narrow during the session. New Orleans closed unchanged. New York closed 3 to 5 points down. The characteristics of dullness and narrowness in a Saturday market were in evidence throughout the trading hours.

The into sight movement for the past week was the heaviest of the season, and spot cotton was a hard proposition to dispose of.

The heavy movement and clearing weather were depressing factors in the matter of price, and the Bryan spot market went off 1-16c. Receipts were light, and sales of only 200 bales, the smallest Saturday transaction for a long time, were noted.

The Prices:
Strict low middling, 8 1-8c.
Middling, 8 1-2c.
Strict middling, 8 5-8c.
Good middling, 8 3-4c.
Liverpool is due 2 points down Monday.

Wins From St. Edwards.

The Allen Academy football team won from St. Edwards in the game played at Austin Saturday by a score of 5 to 2.

The Allen Academy boys are deserving of special commendation for this recent victory. They are not in the same class as St. Edwards, but they jumped in and won. There was a scuffle on the part of St. Edwards in regard to the decision but all differences were amicably adjusted and our boys awarded the honors.

The game between Colorado College and the University of Texas, played at Austin, resulted in a score of 16 to 0 in favor of Colorado College.

At Waco, the game between Baylor and T. C. U. resulted in a victory for Baylor by a score of 6 to 0.

Managing Small Sailboats.

It is quite a trick to lower a mainsail properly. In the first place, the hoops should be just large enough—not so large, however, that the sail does not set close to the mast. Lower the throat first and follow it with the peak. If the peak is dropped first, says a writer in Country Life in America, the sail will not come down. It goes without saying that the sail must be shaken when you want to lower it. To lower a centerboard when under way put the helm up and keep the boat off. A small boat can be stopped by putting the helm up and down across the boat quickly. This is useful in coming up to a dock or mooring. A boat can be got out of stays by dropping her peak and then hoisting it when she is under way. Another way is to put the helm down, slack the main sheet and let her drift back; then trim her quickly and she will sail away. Always go to the lee side of a dock. When a boat is towed make sure that it has a good painter, especially at night.

Candor.

The colonel had remonstrated vigorously with Uncle Eph about the old darky's persistent excursions into the state of inebriation. Uncle Eph, though he promised faithfully to refrain from frequent dips into the flowing bowl, failed to live up to the colonel's expectations. On numerous occasions the colonel saw Eph under the influence of liquor, but the darky when taken to task stoutly denied the accusation, affirming emphatically that he did not drink. One evening the colonel met Uncle Eph in a condition which made it plainly evident that the darky was "caught with the goods on."

"Eph," began the colonel seriously, "I thought you told me that you had given up drink?"

DIES IN DOORWAY.

Chicago's "Cough Drop Man" Is Among the Dead.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—The "cough drop man," as he was known to thousands of people in Chicago, was found dead in the doorway of a Clark street lodging house. Heart failure was the cause of death.

Richard Connors was the name given the defendant when they christened him fifty years ago at Buffalo N. Y. He had been a familiar character in Clark street for a quarter of a century by peddling cough drops.

In the winter season he daily visited the large office buildings selling his "incomparable" cough drops and he got to be known to the tenants as the "cough drop man." Among his customers were bankers, physicians and the most skillful lawyers at the bar. So methodical was he in his calls at the different buildings that his customers could almost set their clocks by his coming.

Although he died penniless, Connors had a "swell funeral," to quote Alderman Michael Kenna. He was a member of the First Ward Democratic club, and the auxiliary, which was incorporated at Springfield only a week ago, took charge of the funeral.

"SKIDDOO" BOMB EXPLODES.

Does More Damage Than the Others, Practically Destroying Building.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Bomb No. 23 was exploded Saturday morning after the policemen placed on watch in all parts of Chicago since the renewal of the bomb outrages had gone home. It did more damage than any of its predecessors, practically destroying a one-story building in Fourteenth street just east of Michigan avenue, occupied by Bernard Marcus as a saloon.

Firemen who were asleep in their quarters across the street were thrown from their beds by the explosion, which tore out most of the front and completely wrecked the interior of the building. Patients in St. Luke's hospital were aroused and a slight panic prevailed, for the building was shaken from basement to roof and only prompt work by the nurses prevented disorder.

Marcus, the saloon keeper, told the police he was at a loss to explain why the bomb had been placed on his premises. He declared he had built the place only a month ago.

A man who refused to give his name to the police was arrested near the scene of the explosion. He said he was at Sixteenth street and Indiana avenue when he heard the explosion and ran to learn the cause. He said he saw a man running away, but when the police began questioning him he became too confused to answer questions. He was then arrested.

TWO-TIME TALK.

"We Don't Like the Militia," Also States the Notes.

McCreary, Ark., Oct. 24.—"We don't like the militia, and this is two-time talk."

This is the substance of notes received through the mails by Major R. B. Keating, Captain H. P. Riggs and Lieutenant Walker, all three prominent officers of the Arkansas National guard, who live here. The note received by Captain Riggs requested that he resign his position with the company and state militia here.

The notes were received on the same mail that two local cotton ginning concerns received notices to stop ginning cotton. These notices were signed "Night Riders."

The officers of the National guard are paying no attention to the notices.

The gins will continue to operate, although guards will be placed about them in order to prevent any possible trouble.

SOCIAL AND CLUB MATTERS

Miss Alice Conway was at home on Wednesday to the Bachelor Girls' Club and a delightful two hours were rapidly spent with five tables of animated players, battling for honors at progressive five hundred.

At the close of a hard fought contest the score cards were inspected and Miss Willie McDougald was declared winner of the prize. The guests were most royally entertained with both instrumental and vocal music on the piano. Chicken salad, salted nuts, crackers, olives, lettuce, sandwiches and limeade were beautifully served. When the guests reluctantly departed, it was with many compliments to the gracious hostess on her afternoon's great success. Miss Conway was assisted in entertaining by her sisters Mrs. H. Conway, Mrs. E. H. Astin, and Miss Ray Conway.

Wednesday evening the Methodist church was the scene of an other beautiful wedding nuptial vows being said by Mr. Arch Calhoun Graham of Bryan, and Miss Ruby Irene LeFebure, of Wellborn, with Rev. Lindsey the pastor at Wellborn officiating. The pulpit was a veritable bank of Sprengerie and maidenhair ferns, tastefully yet simply arranged by friends of the bride. Mrs. Alva Graham of Waco played the wedding march. The bridesmaids Misses Katie Eaves and Jessie Neely were dressed in light blue and carried arm bouquets of white lilies and fern leaves. The bridal party entered in the following order: Misses Bertha Eaves and Lucile Walker as flower girls, followed by the bridesmaids with the groomsmen, Messrs. J. H. Suber and Vert Boyett, after whom came the bride and groom. The parties met in front of the pulpit. The bride and groom stood under an arch of green with a beautiful white wedding bell suspended above, while the minister very feelingly spoke the words which united them. Before the wedding a magnificent supper was spread at the home of the bride's parents and was much enjoyed by the relatives and the bridal party. The Woodmen of the World complimented this popular couple by giving them a dance at their hall. Music was furnished by a splendid orchestra. The bride and groom have many friends who wish for them much happiness and good luck during their married life. Mr. and Mrs. Graham are at home with the groom's mother, Mrs. Ransom.

The newly organized club of the Presbyterian church, composed of twenty-three young ladies, held its first social meeting with Mrs. H. C. Robinson on Monday afternoon. "The Korean Club" has been decided on as the name. The object of these meetings is to raise fifty dollars to help support a missionary in Korea; each member bringing a free will offering to the social meetings. Mrs. Robinson soon made every one feel at home and several hours were very pleasantly spent in conversation and music. A course of cream and cake was served. These meetings will be held once a month, the next meeting to be with Miss Mary Wilcox.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Gussie Buchanan threw open the door of her parents' hospitable home and cordially welcomed the "Mardi Circle Club," and a few outside friends. The guests were received at three o'clock by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. A. J. Buchanan, and ushered into the dainty parlor, where stood the inviting domino tables. Quite a number of games of forty-two were indulged in. Glancing at the beautiful score cards when the last game was played, it was noticed that Miss Alberta Adams had won the most games and was given a pretty pair of silk hose for her good playing. The beautiful roses, so artistically arranged, were much admired by the guests. A most tempting lunch was served. The next meeting will be with Miss Cora Garth on Tuesday afternoon.

A very pretty party was celebrated Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lawrence, it being the ninth nativity anniversary of their little son, John Lawrence, Jr. A Halloween party had been planned and when all the guests had arrived they had great fun over the many games. First was an apple race, in which the children had to pick up apples with tea spoons. In this contest Miss Vivian Howell received the prize, a pretty picture, and Master Charlie Cole was given a boy's, both prizes pertaining to Halloween. The contest of hitting apples which were suspended with pretty red ribbons in the doorway, resulted in a victory for Miss Ethel Evans, who was given a pretty colored candle stick. The handsome dining room presented a most fascinating fairyland-like appearance in its artistically arranged floral and evergreen decoration, red being the prevailing color. In the center
